The Confederation Scheme. We are glad to notice that a feeling in favor of the inclusion of this Colony in the Confederation Bill now before the Imperial Parliament, is growing and strengthening here; and were the country polled to-morrow there is little doubt that the vote in favor of a close communion with our brethren on the other side of the Rocky Mountains would be ten to We have always been in favor of the Confederation of the British North American Provinces, for we cannot conceive how we shall ever become great if we are to depend, as now, upon the favor of a Parliament that know little of our wants and care less. And how could it be otherwise? It would be unreasonable to suppose that a Parliament of Englishmen, sitting in London, could legislate properly for the Colonies, except there were a Colonial representation in that Parliament to express the views and sentiments of its constituents, and to urge upon the attention of honorable members the reour neighbors, and the object of con tempt of our own countrymen. We have scarcely a voice in our own affairs, vinces. The bill further provides

The Executive authority or Government shall be vested in the Sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and be administered, according to the well understood principles of the British Constitution, by the representative of the Sovereign duty authorised. The Sovereign or Representative of the Sovereign will be commander-in-chief of the land and naval militia forces. The general Parliament will have power to The general Parliament will have power to make laws for the peace, welfare and good government of the tederated provinces (saving the sovereignty of the mother country). For each of the provinces there is to be an Executive officer, styled the Licutennat-Governor (paid by the General Government), who is to be appointed by the Government and Legislature of each province are to be constructed in such manner as the existing Legislature of such province shall provide in the islature of such province shall provide in the not consenting to the Union. The Local Legislature will have power to make laws respecting the following subjects: Direct taxation and imposition of duties; borrowing money on the credit of the province agriculture; immigration; education; th sale and management of public lands. &c Upper Canada is to be represented in the Legislative Council by 24 members. Lower Canada by 24 members, and the three maritime provinces by twenty-four members, of whom Nova Scotia shall have 10, and New Brunswick 10. The basis of representation in the House of Commons in the Commons in the Common in mons is to be population, as determined by the official census every ten years; and the number of the members at first will be 194, distributed as follows:—Upper Canada, 82; Lower Canada, 65; Nova Scotia, 19; New Brunswick, 15."

It will be seen by the above extract from the bill that the Confederation scheme is most liberal in its character and should it become law, there will be but little fear of any such calamity overtaking us as in the case of Union, except we are silly enough to again repose our destinies in the hands of men who deem the consideration of questions affecting colonial welfare much in the same light that an unwilling scholar performs a disagreeable task. We are glad, therefore, that our people and their representatives at New Westminster, dreading the fire in which they have been already severely scorched, are extremely cautious in approaching the scheme. This caution will ensure the subject a thorough ventilation at a public meeting, to be held this week, and will result, perhaps, in the zealous guarding of our interests when the final arrangements come to be made.

Do we live in a Free State, under Constitutional Government?

Messas. Editions:—In every free state, every man, who is supposed to be a free agent, ought to be, in some measure, his own governor, and therefore a branch at least of the legislative power should reside in the whole body of the people. If this power were exercised by the people in their aggregate or collective capacity the inconvenience—the territory being extensive—would be great; it is therefore wisely contrived, in our constitution, that they do, by their Representatives, that which it is impracticable to perform in person. The unforseen revolution which followed upon the Union of the two Colonies, an Union party planned, and carried Constitutional Government? quirements of the Colonies. As we stand, we occupy an isolated position; stand, we occupy an isolated position; we have no sympathy or interests in common with Britons on the other side of the mountains, save that of common allegiance. We have no voice in the management of our own affairs; our prayers are unheeded by the Imperial Parliament, and our wants can only be made known through an official, and, consequently, not always a friendly channel. Politically, we are tied hand and foot; deprived of an adequate representative power of the people. In the sovereignty of the British Constitution we find the three great qualities of government well and happily united. The executive power of the laws is lodged in one person, the reigning sovereign; the legislative is intrusted to three distinct powers, entirely independent of each other, First the Queen; second the Peers of realm; third the House of Commons, the Representatives of the people. The aggregate body, actuated by different springs, attentive to different interests, composes the British Parliament, and has the supreme disposal of everything; there can be no inconvenience attempted by either of the three branches, but will be withstood by one of the other two; each branch deprived of an adequate representa-tion, we are the laughing-stock of being armed with a negative power, sufficient to repel any innovation which it shall think inexpedient or dangerous. Here we have a constitutional government, so admirably tempered and compounded that nothing ean endanger or hurt it, but destroying the equilpowerless to prevent the voting of a sum of money for the expenses of world. Our representative institution, the finest in the world. Government uterly beyond our power to pay. But, badly off as we are, we do not wish to accept the Confederation plan because, as some of our imposed a sham upon us, and in these days friends assert, we "cannot be any of utility and progress' the conclusion may safely be come to that they have been worse off." We might easily be as completely sold in making this new bargain as we got the worst of the Union bargain. As a correspondent truly remarked in our columns a few days ago, we might "imitate Moses and exchange our horse for a pair of green spectacles;" or, to use a more homely phrase, we might jump more homely phrase, we might jump out of the frying-pan only to find do the frying-pan only to find ourselves in the hottest kind of a fire.

Ourselves in the hottest kind of a fire. Now, we candidly believe that there is no necessity for any such misfortune befalling the Colony if we exertion the colony if we exertion the colony if we exertion the colon are not exercise the privilege of voting as their wishes would dictate. To cure this evil the ballot might not be found a remedy cise even ordinary care in arranging the business. "Put not your trust in measure that would degrade the manliness measure that would degrade the manliness Princes," nor, we may add, in politicians, either. Profiting by past experience, let us have it fairly underporience, let us have it fairly understood that if we enter the Confederacy it will be upon the same terms as those upon which other Colonies are admitted, or not at all; and we believe that we should secure a Responsible and Cheap form of Government; Reciprocity of Trade, an Overland Wagonload, and ultimately a Railway and Telegraph Line; a transfer of the Legislative power from the hands of the Imperial Parliament to that of a Legislative power from the hands of the Imperial Parliament to that of a Parliament composed of colonial men; the assumption of our debt (which is heavier in proportion to the population than that of any other North American Province) by the Federal Government; and, more important than all of these, a great reduction in taxation per capita. It is proposed that the General Parliament shall consist of a Legislative Council and a House of Commons, composed of representatives from each of the Prosvinces. The bill further provides the hands of their children by discontinuing the means and ways for the maintenance of the common schools. His mind must be ter-ribly misdirected; instead of marching forward he stops, or, rather, he goes backwards. Those who undertook to superintend the schools—the Board of Education—were des-pised, and yet their object was the good of the people in the sense in which the mass of mankind understand the word good. The teaching in the schools was not barren, but practical; no cant—no illusion; it was deduced from common sense. The teachers were not supposed to be proficient in the speculative points of theology, or to meddle with those enigmas which have puzzled hundreds of generations, and will puzzle hundreds more. Until we consider religion as the hond of charity, the cupt of evil passes as the bond of charity, the curb of evil passions, the consolation of the wretched, the support of the timid, the hope of the dying, we shall fail in teaching the Word of the Great Teacher. INTERESTING TO ENGINEERS .- Capt. the Hon Arthur Cochrane, C. B., has been engaged for some time past at Woolwich, on board perfecting his patent vertical tube boiler. the service boiler in the Chanticleer is the same. The weight of the patent boiler when filled with water for service is 8:3 per cent, less than the ordinary boiler. The time for on an average of five trials, 9 per cent, quicker in the patent than in the service boiler; and, when worked to the utmost the evaporative power, with equal weights of Welsh coals consumed in the same time. was 10 per cent. in favor of the patent boiler. When tried for economy, it has produced 12 per cent. more steam with a similar weight of coals burnt in the same amount of time. With the Admiralty mixture of two thirds Welsh and one-third north country coal the patent boiler was 8:4 per cent. more powerful, and when tried for economy produced 8.3 per cent. more steam, with an equal consumption of fuel. There was no priming. The boilers were tried under atmospheric pressure, and the coals and water used were accurately weigh-An element of success in the patent boiler was observed in the violent upward current of water passing through the vertical water tubes, thus preventing incrustation, The patent boiler has 600ft less heating surface than the ordinary boiler, the working carry out the principle of a large combustion chamber in the patent boiler. The trials were under the supervision of Commodore Edmondstone, C. B., and were witnessed officers and other officers of the Dockyard .-London Times.

PUGET SOUND ITEMS .- A correspondent, writting from Port Townsend, says: The Mary Glover has succeeded in getting affoat without sustaining serious damage. She was towed up to the mill by the steamer Resolute yesterday, although she was already affoat when the steamer went to her rescue -thanks to a high tide and the use of a kedge anchor....The bark Washington is hopelessly aground; her rigging has been cut away and she has been abacdoned, and is adjudged condemned....The Biddle is at Port Madison Rev. Mr McDougall, the Temperance reformer, is in town and has succeeded in establishing a lodge of Good Templers, greatly to the annoyance of the whiskey vendors. A smilar work of reformation, through his instrumentality, is going on at Ports Gamble and Ludlow A young lad, son of a Mr Bishop, farmer at Gimiachum, was gored by a bull last week, the beast running his horn into the lung of the little fellow and the member was badly lacerated oozing through the incision; he where under the skilful treatment of Dr Calhoun, he is doing well, although still in a critical condition Judge Darwin holds court to morrow; he was expected last week, returning from a recent visit to the States, but tailed to reach here in season to convene court last Monday; he however telegraphed from Portland that he would reach here to night per steamer ... to-day. THE LATE BARONESS FERDINAND DE ROTHS-CHILD. The lamentable affliction which has befallen the Baron and Bar ness de Rothschild by the death in child-b. d of their second daughter, the Baroness Ferdinand de Rothschild in the second year of her marriage, was an nounced in our columns on Wednesday, Friday was, according to the practice of the ancient race to which she belonged, appointed for her funeral and that of her infant child. At 10 o'clock the remains of deceased were removed from the house they had so lately occupied in Piccadilly, and a procession of mourning carriages was formed, which contained all the principal members of the family and a number of their most intimate friends The mourning coaches were followed by 16 View street for $500, to W. Farron : Lot. private carriages, including that of the Russian | James Bay, $321/2. to St. Clair; Suburban Ambassador. The route taken by the processsion was by Park-Lane, Oxford-street, Portland-road, the Marylebone-road, City-road, Hackney-road, by Victoria-Park, to the West Ham Cemetery. On the arrival of the cortege the coffins were placed in the centre of the hall around which the mourners and friends of the deceased were stationed. On the coffins were placed some boquets and wreaths of camelias and violets. The Rev Mr Asher took his place at the head of the coffin, and read, in Hebrew, the appointed service. The gates leading to the ground were then thrown open, and the bodies were borne to the grave with every token of grief and affection. Seldom, indeed has a young lady been more widely and deservedly lamented .- London Times.

THE TARIFF ON CLOTHING -A memorial to the Legislative Council was circulated yesterday, praying that the proposed tariff on clothing be fixed at a uniform rate of 71/2 per cent. instead of 15 per cent., as proposed by the Tariff Committee. The memorial points out the injury that will be wrought to our foreign trade, should the duty be fixed at the proposed rate; and suggests that, with the tariff fixed at the minimum, the amount of goods sold for the Puget Sound trade would be doubled.

ONE WOULD IMAGINE, to hear some exatiate upon the advantages of a residence n California, that sorrow or trouble never visit that favored land -that the sun a'ways shines there—that peace and plenty abound that business men never "bankrupt," beggars never beg-and that over the entrance of the Golden Gate might with truth be written this quotation-

"And oh! if there be an Elysium on earth, It is this! it is this!"

But, notwithstanding this happiness, sunshine and prosperity, it appears that some silly people will make baste to leave the favored land, and have latterly fallen into a most unpleasant habit of anticipating a call from the grim monster in the regular way by killing themselves. Thus, in a late paper we find no less than five suicides and attempts within two days in the great city of San Francisco. How do these unpleasant incidents occur there. It is said that the king on the throne has troubles: can it be possible that Californians have theirs?

FIRE DEPARTMENT .- The Board of Delegates of the City Fire Department met on Tuesday evening, when there was a full at-Her Majesty's 17 guu sloop Chanticleer, in | tendance to discuss matters relative to the finances of the Association, &c. The Secre-The space occupied by Capt. Cochrane's and | tary was instructed to apply to the Government for the money lately voted for the use of the Department. Action was also had in regard to the Municipal by-law levying a rate on the Insurance Companies, It is said raising steam from similar temperatures was, that the payment of the small rate assessed will be contested at law; and the Department state that if the Government do not give an assurance that the rights of the firemen will be protected, both with reference to the Exemption Act and the enforcing of the Civil By-law, they will certainly disband.

CHURCH MATTERS .- An ordination will be held at the Cathedral on Sunday next, when the Rev. Mr Heyman, of New Westminster, will be priested, and Mr Cave, Catechist and Indian Missionary, of Nanaimo, will be ordained a deacon. The Rev. J. Reynard, attached to the Cathedral, will relieve the former gentleman for a short period, proceeding to New Westminster by the first trip of the Enterprise. In the Methodist Church, we are informed that the work of revival is proceeding, and that many have been awakened to a sense of their position, and have sought and obtained religion.

LEECH RIVER .- Mr Johnson, who came in from Leech river mines on Tuesday, inof which was dispensed with, in order to forms us that the flume between the ditch and the mill was to be opened on Monday. The water from this flume is intended to drive the mill-wheel, by which means some 70,000 feet of lumber for the main flame will with much interest by the various naval be sawed, and active mining operations commenced in about six weeks time. The cold has not been severe at the mines, and there were only some twenty inches of snow on the banks of the river. Williamson & Co are working at their tunnel claim.

> THE CONFEDERATION MEETING .- The com mittee of arrangements met last evening and decided that the public meeting to consider the question of Confederation and the desirability of taking immediate sters for the admission of this Colony into the new nationality on equitable terms, shall take place in the Theatre on Saturday evening, at half-past seven o'clock. Let all attend and lend their ears, if they don't their voices, on an occasion which will have a most important bearing on the destiny of this Colony.

CALIFORNIA GOLD .- It results from American statistics that the receipts of the precious metal at New York from Calafornia were in 1859 $39, 592,720; in 1860 they declined to $34,580,261; in 1861 they remained about stationary, amounting to $34,585,749; in 1862 they declined to $25,079,787; and in 1863 to $12,207.320. In 1864 there was a rally to $12,907,803; and in 1865 the total further advanced to $21,531,586 was immediately conveyed to the hospital, California would appear, however, to have seen its best days as a gold-producing

> THE KOOTENAL MINES .- We learn that the mines discovered last fall on the Kootenai are proving both rich and extensive quite a number of men remained there during the winter, many of whom made good wages during the odd times they were enabled to confidence that the coming season will prove successful to all. Quite an influx of Herald, 5th inst.

PATENT HARVESTER. -Mr Vanderpool, of Polk county, Oregon, says the Herald, has-invented an ingenious harvester and thrasher, which when its merits become known, will revolutionize the system of harvesting now in use With the motive power of an ordinary reaper it gathers and thrashes at the same time, from eight to ten acres of grain per day, withou waste, He has had one at work on his farm for two years-proving its practical utility beyond peradventure.

REAL ESTATE SALE .- Messis J. P. Davies & Co. yesterday sold the following property at auction: House and third of a lot or Lots, $42} to $60; 270 acres, in Lake District, for $2 per acre, to J. G. Shepherd. A full-sized lot, at the top of Yates street containing 13 shanties, was sold by Mr Backus for $185.

THE NEXT LECTURE - Owing to the antic inated arrival of the mail steamer, Dr Comrie's lecture on Water, which was to have been delivered this evening at the Mechanics' Institute, has been postponed until Thursday following, should the Sparrowbawk be then in port.

CATALOGUE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FUR-NITURE.-At 11 o'clock this morning Mr Backus will sell, at the residence of Mr F. Tarbell, Birdcage Walk, an elegant assortment of Household Furniture, Piano, &c.; also, Cow, Chickens, Buggy, Harness, &c. all nearly new. Catalogues may be obtained at the Auctioneer's and on the premises.

JOHN T. JEFFREYS, a well-known Caribooite, died lately at Dalles City, Oregon, Mr Jeffreys was widely known throughout the mainland as a butcher and drover, and was a man of such strong secession proclivities during the American war, as to render his residence at that time in Oregon unsafe.

So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so manerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the affilicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
